1. About Organization

1.1 Genesis and Status

The Pioneers of SANGATA are three social activists of local tribal youth who started their social career at early age. They associated with various grassroots local N.G.O. and Action groups for critically understanding the real social-economic condition of the people in six blocks of Surguja district i.e. Mainpat, Batauli, Sitapur, Udaypur, Surajpur and Lakhanpur. They realized that major issue affecting tribal’s food and livelihood security are mainly related to land, water and forest. They struggled for tribal right over land, water and forest under the banner of various informal local action groups. In 1996 Mr. Bhoopendra Bahadur Singh an active Social Activist with a post Graduate Degree from University of Allahabad joined with them. All in their struggle for basic right of tribal and backward community realized that innovative and sustainable development initiatives are needs of area and people’s empowerment. Therefore they established informally an organization named SANGATA SAHABHAGI GRAMIN VIKAS SANATHAN (Institute for participatory Rural Development) with support of reputed social workers and like minded friends on 25th April, 1997. SANGATA words in Chhattisgarhi regional dialect means Friend. The dreams of the SANGATA are to establish human value based self reliant and exploitation free peaceful society. Informally organization has been working in few villages of Surguja. Realizing requirement of the area, people’s participation and cooperation SANGATA got registered under Madhya Pradesh Society Registration Act. 1973 on 15th March, 1999.

1.2 Philosophy

Respecting and recognizing indigenous wisdom of local communities as also supporting local efforts of poor rural communities especially tribal and women who are trying to escape poverty and drudgery.

1.3 Approach

SANGATA encourages community participation for enhancement and upgradation of people’s skills and knowledge through institutionalization processes while incorporating their issues and points of views.

1.4 Operational area

The operational area of the organization is whole Chhatisgarh. Since the inception SANGATA has operationalising its all development efforts by community participation in few villages of Surajpur, Sitapur, Mainpat, Lundra and Batauli blocks of Surguja district. But initial experiment was confined to two villages, Karamundumura and Maheshpur, of Surajpur block. Later SANGATA intervened in few villages of Korba, Korea and Jashpur district.

2.2 Empowering women through Formation, Nurturing and Bank’s Linkages of Self Help Group:
The Organization strategy is to be mobilized for the unused inherent capacity of rural women for development of their family and community. SANGATA believes that S.H.G.’s model of development is an educational process for creating a sense of awareness, a sense of involvement, a sense of belongingness and a sense of possession or ownership which ultimately lead to development of self reliance, self confidence, Competence and managerial capacity among women. S.H.G.’s also enables the women to discover their overall potential increase their aspiration level and mobilized their resources for productive purposes. Therefore SANGATA has been forming self help group as per the guidelines of NABARD and National Rural Livelihood Mission of Government. These S.H.G.s are activated and trained for linkages with bank and Government schemes. Increasing the capacity of rural poor women to fight for their fundamental entitlement.

2.3 Protection of fundamental entitlement of Children

SANGATA believes that poverty is not major cause of child labour and out of school children if proper opportunities provided the parents will certainly make adjustment within the family and will give high priority for education of their children. Therefore Go to School Campaign organized Ulkiya, Dekhidoli, Lalitpur, Bharatpur, Erand, Bagdoli and Benai villages with active participation S.H.G.’s members in the July month of 2016. During School Chalo Abhiyan People realized importance of education for their working children and out of school children. People agreed to send their children to school. It is also realized that even the parents of poorest of poor families are seeking the opportunity to educate their children in suitable school. Organisation is also fighting for the cause of destitute, abandoned beaten or abused children.

Childline Project 1098

Organisation has been running project CHILDLINE 1098 for protection of child rights with support Ministry Woman and Child Development and Childline Foundation of India.
2.4 Community organization and Capacity Building:

Capacity building of the people is considered crucial for the success and sustainability of the development process. Apart from the technical, financial and managerial assistance provided to the formed grassroots institutions e.i. Village development committees, a strong emphasis laid on empowerment of the village level peoples’ organization. The formed people's organization named Chhattisgarh Dharati Bachao Andolan (Chhattisgarh Save Earth Movement) have been linked to like minded people’s organization for struggle of their entitlement on forest, land, water and livelihood.

4. Conservation of indigenous variety of paddy and vegetable seeds: Save Rice Campaign

Seed the basic input is lifeline of agriculture. Local farming community have preserve and reused their diverse indigenous seeds varieties. It is with this art of preserving and reusing that all the agricultural biodiversity, that is our heritage has been maintained and developed. The situation started changing with the introduction of green revolution that usher in modern crop varieties that would increase yield has not only caused damage of our environment but also eroded most of our heritage. Corporate grip over all inputs especially seeds is most alarming because it threaten to hold farming and food security to big business interests. Losing our traditional variety will make other farmers depend on seeds companies and end of traditional agriculture. Organization has been promoting 150 variety of tradition seeds conserved by community. With Support of Save Our Rice Campaign, Thanal Thiruvananthapuram Kerala Organisation conserving 48 indigenous variety of Paddy.
